

Economic Growth, Regulatory Relief, and Consumer Protection Act (S. 2155) and House Legislation: Common Issue Areas

Updated May 17, 2018

The Economic Growth, Regulatory Relief, and Consumer Protection Act (S. 2155) passed the Senate on March 14, 2018. The bill generally aims to provide regulatory relief to banks, relax mortgage lending and capital formation rules, and provide additional consumer financial protections. The bill addresses a number of policy issues that are also addressed by the Financial CHOICE Act (H.R. 10), which was passed by the House on June 8, 2017, and other House bills that have been passed by the House or otherwise seen legislative action in the 115th Congress. The table below matches the policy issues covered in sections of S. 2155 with sections of H.R. 10 and those other House bills. Note, however, that while the issues addressed in the various pieces of legislation are similar, how the bills address them may differ to varying degrees, some quite significantly.

Notes: The table identifies bills that have passed the House or have otherwise seen legislative action as of May 14, 2018. “Rept. by Comm.” refers to the House Financial Services Committee unless otherwise noted and includes bills that were ordered to be reported. The table does not include sections of the House appropriations bill (H.R. 3354) that passed the House on September 14, 2017, some sections of which do address certain policy issues listed in the table.

In addition to those listed above, a number of House Financial Services Committee bills have been passed by the House in the 115th Congress that are also generally aimed at providing regulatory relief to banks, relaxing mortgage lending and capital formation rules, or providing additional financial consumer protection, but are not related to issue areas addressed by S. 2155.
